CONGRESS LINE-CLEAR FOR SIMLA CONFERENCE

President Announces Working Committee Decision

Gandhiji And Azad Leaving By Frontier Mail To-day

WITH A MANDATE FROM THE CONGRESS PRESIDENT, CONGRESS INVITEES TO THE VICEROY'S CONFERENCE AT SIMLA WILL ATTEND THE CONFERENCE ON MONDAY.

THE CONGRESS WORKING COMMITTEE TOOK THE DECISION ON THURSDAY NIGHT, AFTER NEARLY SEVEN HOURS' DELIBERATIONS.

The Congress President has intimated the following message to the ex-Congress Premiers and other Congressmen invited for the Conference. "Please attend Conference at Simla June 25th. If possible meet me on the 24th for further instructions."

Telegram To Viceroy

Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the Congress President, sent the following telegram to Viceroy:

"The Congress Working Committee authorises me to accept your invitation to Simla Conference. Hopes remain Simla 24th. Would be grateful if you can conveniently see me before conference. Thanking you for your accommodation."

At the conclusion of the session on Thursday night, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad asked by a Press representative what the Committee had decided in regard to the Viceroy's proposal, the Congress President replied that the decision of the Committee was contained in the telegram. In reply to a further query, he replied that the Working Committee will meet at 8 a.m. on Friday (23rd day).

PLEASANT CLIMAX

The announcement made by the Congress President intimating Congress invitees to attend the Simla Conference came as a pleasant climax to earlier reports suggesting that the question might not be decided as early as it was first anticipated. These reports were based on the statement made by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru that the preliminary question before the Working Committee was whether it was worthwhile to attend the conference at all and also on the fact that Mahatma Gandhi who intended to leave for Simla on Thursday instead of Friday (to-day) abandoned the idea in the afternoon. Gandhiji presumably wanted to reach Simla a day earlier and get some rest before meeting the Viceroy on Sunday.

MAHATMA GANDHI, MAULANA ABUL KALAM AZAD, the Congress President and other invitees are leaving Bombay today by the Frontier Mail. It is likely that some members of the Congress Working Committee will accompany them to Simla.

Mahatma Gandhi is attending the Conference as an "unconventional adviser," as he is known to describe himself.

WORKING COMMITTEE IN SESSION

The morning meeting of the Working Committee commenced at Birla House at 2.30 p.m., on Friday. The Congress President arrived earlier and met Gandhiji.

A little later the formal session of the Working Committee commenced. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Dr. Rajendra Prasad, Dr. Pattabhi Sesharamayya, Dr. Prafulla Chandra Ghosh, Pandit Govind Vallabh Pant, Acharya J. B.

Viceroy's "No" To Jinnah

CALCUTTA, June 21, (O. P. I.): "Advance", Calcutta daily paper publishes the following with banner headlines as an item from their Special Representative:

"The Viceroy in his telegram to Mr. Jinnah is reported to have made it clear to him that it would not be proper for all the five Muslims in the Executive Council to be nominated by the Muslim League and that the Congress would be allowed to nominate its due proportion of two Muslims to the Council. Well-informed circles believe that this position is not acceptable to Mr. Jinnah, that, however, he is afraid of giving the impression to his people that he is pursuing a negative policy and will swallow the bitter pill this time."

SIMLA RECEPTION FOR JINNAH

SIMLA, June 21. (A. P. I.)—The Simla Muslim League has decided to accord a befitting reception to Mr. M. A. Jinnah when he arrives here to meet the Viceroy.

to the residence of Mr. Bhulabhai Desai where he is putting up.

He did not attend the adjourned session which met again at 8 p.m. after prayer which Gandhiji attended. After this meeting, the preliminary question of attending the Conference was decided. The Committee, then, adjourned till to-day, when, it is learnt, it will draft directives to the Congress invitees to the Simla Conference. (Continued on page 4)

Is It Worthwhile Attending Simla Conference, Asks Nehru

Interim Proposals, Full Of Difficulties And Arrangements Suggested Lead To Complications

BOMBAY, June 21. (U.P.A.): Commenting on press reports that he had "expressed confidence in the outcome of the Simla Conference," Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru in an exclusive interview to-day with Stewart Hensley of the United Press of America said that any such interpretation of his remarks was unwarranted and unjustified.

"I am wholly unable to say what the outcome of the Simla Conference will be," Pandit Nehru said, with emphasis on the word "wholly."

"At present the preliminary question before us is whether it is worthwhile attending it," he said.

Pandit Nehru warned that "raise steps taken at this stage may lead to a manner of new conflicts," and explained in detail the difficulties which lie ahead for India.

Pt. Nehru said:

"If this thing had been anything of a semi-permanent nature, it could not be looked at. The only reason why it can be considered is that it is a proposal for brief interim arrangements which would lead rapidly to Indian democratic freedom."

FULL OF DIFFICULTIES

"Even so, the interim proposals are full of difficulties and certain arrangements are suggested which would lead to complications."

"What the outcome of our Committee meeting and any subsequent meetings may be, I cannot say."

"Ultimately we have to judge everything from the point of view of the All-India Congress Committee Resolution of August 8, 1942."

The last part of that resolution, dealing with possible mass movement, does not apply now, but the rest of that Resolution lays down our fundamental policy and not even the Working Committee can change that. Only the All-India Congress Committee or a full session of the Congress can do so.

"Oddly enough, the All-India Congress Committee has decided to go to the Congress President in Hindustani."

City's Quiet Reception To Azad

Nehru's Diatribe Against Official Incompetence And Corruption

BOMBAY, Thursday. Maulana Abul Kalam Azad was given an enthusiastic reception at Jinnah Hall, immediately after his arrival by the first Calcutta mail, today.

He detrained at Byculla where a group of Congressmen, including Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, Mr. Bhulabhai Desai, Acharya Kripalani, Mr. Jai Ramdas Daulatram, Mr. Nagindas T. Master, Mr. S. K. Patil and Dr. Alban D'Souza, the Mayor of Bombay received him.

He immediately motored to Jinnah Hall. While a huge crowd of people pressed against the gates and swayed a cordon of volunteers in front of the hall, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad with other Congress leaders quietly drove in through a side entrance and entered the hall amidst tumultuous cheering from the long waiting crowds that heard that the Congress President had already entered the hall without their noticing him.

Over 400 organisations presented bouquets and garlands to the Congress President.

While the reception was in full swing in the flag-festooned hall, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru arrived, after having informal talks with Gandhiji again at Birla House.

The crowds once again broke into loud and continuous cheering.

The Congress President got up from his seat and embraced Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru.

The function over, the Congress President expressed satisfaction to Mr. S. K. Patil at the quiet manner in which it was organised and in the way the usual strain was avoided.

After Maulana Abul Kalam Azad left the hall, Pandit Nehru found himself literally besieged by a huge crowd, so that Pandit Nehru strode to the balcony and stood there for some time, surveying the enthusiastic crowds.

After a few minutes, he addressed the crowd in Hindustani.

NEHRU SPEAKS.

He expressed himself very strongly in regard to the Bengal famine. He said that the famine was the natural outcome of inefficiency and corruption. It would never have taken place if Government was run by sound people.

On the one hand people were dying and on the other, through profiteering, people, either Indians or the British, were amassing wealth. "In the Government machinery, disruption, demoralization, downright rot had set in."

Speaking extempore, he said that the country during the last three years had passed through very anxious and troublesome times and there was a lot of ill-temper on all sides.

But it was the duty of the young people in this country not to lose their equanimity. He said everywhere in the world people were confronted with difficult problems which they were not able to solve easily.

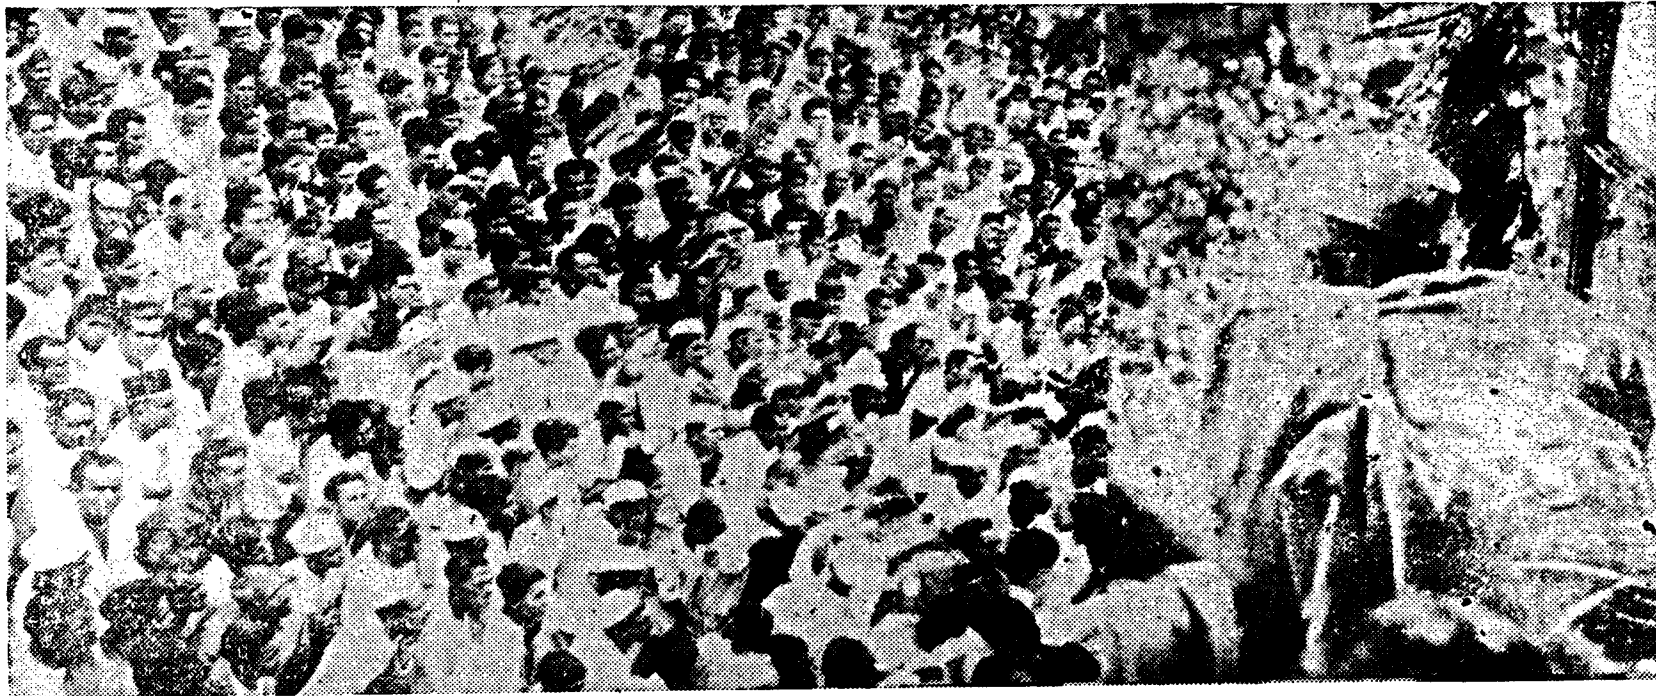

Most people seem to think that only India faces problems which are difficult and not easy to solve, but they are not correct in their view. We have got to estimate our problems and we have got to solve them.

Ours is a very difficult path, but we should not lose heart in trying to solve our difficulties. The problems which confront us are big but we should work together to solve them.

Our main problems are fundamental and not easy to solve. At every step they either become easier or more difficult and unless we get to the root of the disease we cannot eradicate it.

POLITICS V. ARITHMETIC

Referring to the political situation of the day, Pandit Nehru said that they were confronted with difficult questions. People were faced with percentages. People were thinking in arithmetical terms. He wished arithmetic was separated from politics. It was necessary that people should face the future with courage, patience and discipline. Mole hills should not be magnified to look like mountains.

Pandit Jawaharlal addressing from the gallery of the Jinnah Hall after the arrival of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad on Thursday.

Germany Not Down And Out But Only On Her Knees

Montgomery Says Next Two Or Three Months To Be Test Period For Nazis

TWENTY-FIRST ARMY GROUP. June 21 (Reuter): Field-Marshal Montgomery told Reuter's Correspondent here to-day that Germany was not down and out but only on her knees.

The next two or three months, he said, would be a testing period. Field-Marshal Montgomery said that German S. S. troops were likely to be kept in prison cages for 20 years.

Members of the German General Staff, he said, would be taken from Germany and isolated in small colonies where they would be kept in prison communities for an indefinite time.

When Reuter's Correspondent asked the Field-Marshal about Germany's immediate future, he said that the Allies would have to keep a close watch on the million trained German soldiers who would soon be demobilised in Germany.

The Field-Marshal said that there would definitely be famine in Germany this winter but he was determined to do everything possible to mitigate starvation. Food would be sent to the Ruhr to counter-balance part of the great quantity formerly imported from parts of Germany now under Russian occupation and it was hoped to give every German in the British zone 2,000 calories of food daily which was half the ration of a British soldier.

Field-Marshal Montgomery said that he did not regard fraternisation as a major problem.

He observed, however, that women of the German Army Auxiliary Services seemed to be "red hot anti-British."

He revealed that the famous British Seventh Armoured Division—"Desert Rats"—will go to Berlin to occupy the British sector there.

The Ruhr has at present 140 mines working and producing 40,000 tons of coal daily. Targets have been set to reach 100,000 tons daily by August and 200,000 daily by Spring. It was intended to export coal from the Ruhr.

"BOREALIS" WINS CORONATION CUP

NEWMARKET, June 21 (Reuter)—The following is the result of the Coronation Cup, run over a mile-and-a-half at Newmarket today:

(1) Lord Derby's "Borealis", ridden by Harry Wragg.

(2) Lord Rosebery's "Oceanswell", ridden by Eph Smith.

(3) Mr. W. Woodward's "Hycilla", ridden by D. I. Smith.

The only other runner, Abbottsford was ridden by Arthur Wragg. Neither of the Aga Khan's pair, "Tehran" and "Darbhanga" ran. Trainer Frank Butters being unwilling to risk "Tehran" on hard ground owing to the fact he is going for the Ascot Gold Cup a fortnight hence.

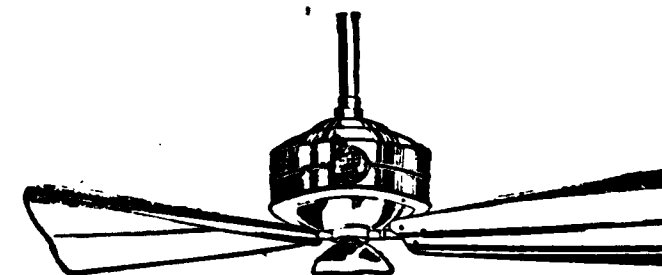

"Borealis" and "Oceanswell" started five to two with "Hycilla" 11 to 8 favourite.

Graham Trading Co. (India)
Ltd. Applicants (Defendants) Ichhashanker J. Man-
kodi Respondent (Plaintiff)
The defendants took out this Notice of Motion for stay of suit. They had employed the plaintiff under an oral agreement as their salesman at Karachi on a salary of Rs. 150 per month and a commission on sales effected by him which the plaintiff alleged was to be increased in proportion to increased sales. Disputes having arisen as to the payment of increased commission the plaintiff resigned in October 1941 and filed this suit for accounts.
The defendants applied for stay of this suit on the ground that no part of the cause of action had arisen in Bombay and that the plaintiff had been employed by their Karachi branch and all the evidence was at Karachi.
His Lordship stayed the suit on the ground that, if trial in Bombay would be vexatious and would cause injustice to the defendants.
Mr. E. Vachha, instructed by Messrs. Crawford Bailey Co. appeared for the applicant. Mr. K. A. Somjee instructed by Messrs. Mankodi & Co. appeared for the respondent.

JAIL AND FINE FOR THEFT OF BOOKS

Hemchandra Narsi figured in the Court of Mr. D. S. Babrekar, Presidency Magistrate, Gurgaum Police Court, charged with the theft of two books of Mr. V. S. Taraporevala who had kept them in a shop known as the "New Book Company."
Mr. Narsi is stated stood charged with theft of books on a large scale from the New Book Company, Bombay. The charge could be substantiated in respect of two books only.
The case had its beginning in March 1943. The accused a frequent visitor to the shop, since 1937, was arrested on a complaint of having left the premises with two books hidden underneath his shirt. Although he was acquitted on this charge the Company became suspicious and had his residence searched with the help of the police. Eighty-nine books were taken in possession.
The prosecution alleged that the 89 books were the property of the New Book Company.
The Magistrate awarded him a fine of Rs. 200 and one day's S.I. or in default to undergo 10 weeks' R.I.
Mr. R. K. Khare, Police Prosecutor, conducted the case, while Mr. H. M. Mody, Advocate, watched the proceedings on behalf of the complainant the New Book Company.

TRIBUTE TO AGARKAR

Bombay Meeting-Recalls His Services To Education

The Bombay Presidency Social Reform Association celebrated the 50th Anniversary of the death of Gopal Ganesh Agarkar, one of the founders of the Deccan Education Society of Poona, and the Editor of the "Sudharak", an erstwhile companion of Tilak and Editor of "Kesari" from 1881 to 1888, by holding a public meeting at Blavatsky Lodge on Sunday last. Sir Janardan Madan presiding.

Mr. N. M. Joshi who was the first speaker stressed the aspect of Agarkar's life which showed what a really great man he was. He compared Agarkar to Tukaram and pointed out by specific instances in his life how his whole life was characterised by courage, strength of character, and un-wavering adherence to truth. Agarkar was an educationist in the sense, that by his powerful and fearless willing in the "Sudharak" he had contributed largely to the education of his race. The two lady speakers at the meeting Mrs. Yamunabai Hirlekar and Mrs. Krishnabai More, devoted their speeches to bring out Agarkar's services to the cause of female education and women's emancipation. Agarkar was never afraid to call a spade a spade, he was merciless in his attack on "tremendous orthodox" and "organised hypocrisy." And though he suffered heavily for it, he never changed his front to win popularity and favour from the masses whose real interest was ever nearest his heart. He was a patriot through and through, though his patriotism never took the form of trucking to the populace.

Prof. V. N. Naik analysed of the mental attitude of Agarkar towards the reform and reconstruction of Hindu Society and illustrated it by quotations from his writings.

Okinawa Campaign Ends In Allies' Favour

90,000 Japs Killed: Allies Establish Invasion Command In Pacific

GUAM, June 21. (Reuter). Admiral Nimitz announced today that the Okinawa campaign had ended.

A special 'communique' said: "After 82 days' fighting the battle of Okinawa has been won. Organised resistance ceased on June 21. Enemy garrisons in two small pockets are being mopped up."

Reuter adds: Okinawa is one of the main islands of the Ryukyu chain, less than 400 miles south of the great industrial area of Tokyo, Osaka and Kobe.

An official announcement yesterday estimated that 90,000 Japanese soldiers lost their lives in fighting.

The struggle virtually reached its conclusion a few days ago when deep thrusts by American Marines split the fanatical Japanese defenders holding on in the south of the island. Roughly 1,000 Japanese have been killed daily during the bitter drive down the island's southernmost 15 miles.

Allies Establish Invasion Command In Pacific

The Australian Radio, quoting a report from Manila, last night said that a new command, to be known as the Allied Forces of the Western Pacific, comprising all now combatant forces, under General MacArthur's Supreme Command has been established.

The Radio added that the new command was another step towards invasion of Japan.

Its task will be to handle the flow of ammunition, equipment, food and personnel for the assault on the Japanese homeland.

WASHINGTON.—Lieut. Gen. Doolittle who commanded the Eighth U.S. Air Force in Britain, disclosed here today that he would be leaving for the Pacific in the very near future to carry out a double-pronged heavy bomber assault on Japan in co-operation with the 20th U.S. Air Force.

He said: "Japan is going to be easier to destroy through bombardment than Germany."

"SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES" The Tokyo Radio commentator stated in a broadcast: "The outcome of the Okinawa battle will have serious consequences, politically and strategically for Japan."

WAKE ISLAND RAIDED The Tokyo Radio reports today that a force of 300 carrier-based U.S. planes raided Wake Island, stepping stone in the North Pacific between America and Asia, yesterday afternoon.

CHINESE LINK-UP NEAR LIUCHOW The Chinese force advancing on Liuchow—a Japanese base in the corridor to Indo-China—along the Nanjing and Ischan highways have linked up six miles from Liuchow, today's Chinese communique reported.

Villages East of Prome Taken ADV. H.Q. ALFSEA, June 21 (A.P.I.)—The village of Paukkaung, 22 miles east of Prome, has been occupied by our troops, reports today's SEAC communique.

"In the area 36 miles south, south-east of Prome, our troops occupied the village of Pyinmakhaung and found 24 Japanese bodies. Our patrol with mortar and machine-gun fire inflicted heavy casualties on 100 Japanese seen moving in a village."

British patrols, operating south from milestone 20 on the Mawchi Road found hastily evacuated basins.

4 KILLED IN LORRY ACCIDENT MARGHERITA (Assam), June 21 (A.P.I.)—Four persons were killed and injured when a motor lorry skidded and capsized on the Digbuli-Pengaree Road, four miles from Dibrugarh, last Thursday, according to information received here. The driver escaped unhurt. The injured were taken to hospital where they are reported to be progressing.

HITLER'S "Flight-to-Japan" Plane Found LONDON, June 21. (Reuter). The New York radio says that a huge four-engine plane capable of carrying 30,000 gallons of petrol has been found in Germany.

The German ground crew said that they had been ordered during the last weeks of the war to keep the plane ready to carry Hitler to Japan.

Bing Crosby and Betty Hutton in "Here Come The Waves"

Eros: 2nd Run

"Here Come The Waves."

Stars: Bing Crosby, Betty Hutton. Director: Mark Sandrich. Type of Film: Musical Comedy.

This Crosby picture does not come up to the usual standard of this famous crooner's films. He plays the part of an idolised singer who joins the navy along with his friend (Sonny Tufts). They both fall for the same girl—one of a pair of twins who are both in the 'Waves'—the American women's navy service which this picture is meant to boost up. There are all manner of complications because the unloved twin sister angles for the crooner. Things are straightened out in the end and the pairs sorted out to everybody's satisfaction.

Only one of the many songs in the picture appealed to me. It was called "The Long Way Home."

Excelsior: 3rd Run

"A Song To Remember" (Columbia)

Stars: Merle Oberon, Cornel Wilde. Director: Charles Vidor. Type of Film: Drama.

The composer Chopin and the notorious woman novelist George Sand who flouted the conventions of her time, are the central figures of this absorbing drama. The selfish love of George Sand keeps the musician away from serious work till his teacher, Elsner, weans him away from the woman by reminding him of his duty to his country and its starving people. For the sake of the latter, Chopin undertakes a concert-tour which results in his death.

Oberon as Sand infuses the proper degree of egotism into her role. Cornel Wilde seems overwhelmed by the artist around him, and so makes of the weak-willed composer much too confident a man. Muri is good as Elsner.

A plethora of repeat and return films glut our picture-houses this week. There is not a single new release anywhere. It seems almost futile to comment time and time again on the selfish policy of local cinema managements so absorbed in worshipping the Box-office Moloch, that any reminder of their duty to cater to the entertainment needs of the public effects them like water on the back of the proverbial duck. However, I feel it my duty to repeat what I said in these columns some time ago:

"As week after week we are inundated with a spate of return or repeat films, it becomes increasingly clear that 'service to self' and not 'service to the public' is the maxim that governs the policy of our picture-house Moguls. It is all very well for managements to bracket these films 'by popular demand.' But

"Rebecca" (United Artists).

Stars: Lawrence Olivier, Joan Fontaine. Director: Alfred Hitchcock. Type of Film: Mystery Thriller.

Back to Bombay comes the film adaptation of Daphne Du Maurier's famous novel which deals with the brooding influence of a dead woman over the household of her husband and his second wife. The film abounds in suspense as it slowly unravels the curious circumstances that led to the death of Rebecca.

Olivier as Maxim de Winter, is appropriately morose. Joan Fontaine as the second wife, gives a clever characterisation as a shy, retiring girl very much in love with her husband and puzzled by the strangely haunting influence of his dead wife. Judith Anderson as Mrs. Danvers, the housekeeper who hates the new Mrs. de Winter, makes herself much too fearsome. The macabre atmosphere hangs over the entire picture which is faithful to the book.

this publicity stunt hoodwinks nobody. "The public of Bombay is not so foolish as to ask for a simultaneous repetition of shows at several cinemas in the same week. The managements are merely taking advantage of the fact that Bombay's war-time floating population can be relied upon to make of any reasonably good picture a box-office success—at the expense of the permanent Bombayite whose round of film entertainment is thus becoming considerably limited. "This difficulty could be solved easily by the managements getting together and agreeing among themselves that in any one week only one, or, at most, two picture-houses should show an old film. Let us hope that our cinema managements have enough spirit left for public-service to change their selfish policies."

New Empire: 2nd Run

"Summer Storm" (United Artists).

Stars: George Sanders, Linda Darnell. Director: Douglas Sirk. Type of Film: Slow-moving melodrama.

Here is a filmisation of Tolstoy's play which drags very heavily in parts. Linda Darnell plays the main role of Olga, the wanton daughter of a wood-cutter, with convincing spirit and abandon. George Sanders does not fit at all into the role of her lover who is so bewitched by her charms that he is unable to save himself from her demoralising influence and ends up by killing her and even permits a miscarriage of justice when the jury finds the girl's innocent husband guilty and he is sent to the salt mines of Siberia.

All the players, except Linda Darnell and Hugo Haas who enacts the role of her evanescent husband, appear to be masquerading in Russian costumes.

GLIMPSES OF POST-WAR INDIA

THE VETERAN OF MANY WAR FRONTS

MEMBERS of our fighting and auxiliary services, drawn from almost every town and village, have covered themselves with glory on many a battle front. When they return home after Victory they will relate to admiring audiences stories of their adventures in distant lands. They will tell of the many modern weapons and devices they have handled; and doubtless of their tough khaki uniforms, of which every yard of material has been made by Indian Mills.

The Buckingham and Carnatic Mills' unique manufacturing resources must continue at Government's disposal until the Jap is beaten to his knees. Meantime the Mills' latest planning will extract from the machinery available for civil supplies the maximum output of Utility Cloths.

It is said that 5,000 Silver bars were tendered against settlement and 3,000 bars were transferred. Nearly 1,100 tenders were issued. The forward silver market, opened today at Rs. 135.14 and after improving to Rs. 135.10 quoted at Rs. 135.05. Ready Silver was quoted at Rs. 136.10. Forward Gold closed at Rs. 78.9, after declining to Rs. 78.4, and after Rs. 78.6. Ready Gold was quoted at Rs. 78.10. Sovereigns were quoted at Rs. 13.10.

The Cotton Market opened steady and under moderate support from professional bull operations quotations recorded some improvement.

As anticipated, today being settlement of monthly settlement operations, the market was supported by the sympathy with a view to pass over a portion of their purchases to the buyers of "call" options. This fact also moved the market to a narrow price movement during the past fortnight.

The market opened today at Rs. 413 for July delivery and improved to Rs. 414.4 under moderate support and later advanced to Rs. 415.12.

100 Mundi was sold at the rate of Rs. 413.4 and this was followed by general liquidation and July decline to Rs. 409.8. At this level there was some covering July rallied to Rs. 411.8.

It appears that bulls are fairly heavily long and they will be called upon to take up all tenders. But the available capacity to stock is limited and very likely attempts will be made to unload a portion of the holdings. There was some selling today in September which narrowed difference. once again free from the operations of option business and we look for wider price movement.

Latex oil trade was active general buying and the syndicate also sought to the extent of about 50,000 cases and July advanced to Rs. 41.8. It was reported that one more party arrived the syndicate and preparations were being made to weigh over cotton in Bombay as well as Karachi.

Any way it goes without doubt that the market was held up for the past few days for 100 Mundi operations. The market is now freely moving and it assumed lively appearance on extension buying in July when tender "cloud" is drawing near. The market finally closed at 9 p.m. as under:—

New York Cotton Market Relies

On Price Control Act

NEW YORK, June 20.

Cotton opened steady and advanced on overnight buying but then sagged in sympathy with grains and in connection with ultimate outcome of the price control legislation combined with yesterday's authorised tariff rate reductions and most favourable inter-reactions of the weekly weather report.

The market subsequently steadied on the trade and local support and emphasis on bullish spot and textile news.

The market then turned quiet but steady on routine price fixing and other scattered buying based on the belief that the price control act would eventually be enacted without any important changes. The session closed steady.

SENATOR TAFT ADVOCATES STABILISATION OF DOLLAR AND STERLING

Part Of Loan To Britain For Use Of Indian Importers

WASHINGTON, June 20 (Reuter):

Senator Robert Taft, of Ohio, the recognised leading economic specialist of the Republican party today advocated agreement with Britain to stabilising the dollar and the pound in relation to each other and "let other" currencies float on to this standard.

Describing this as a substitute for the "cumbersome machinery of Bretton

Woods Senator Taft told Reuter tonight.

In regard to Sterling balances and especially Indian blocked balances, one of the main provisions of this bilateral agreement would be that part of our loan to Britain would be set aside for the use of Indian importers wishing to purchase goods in the United States. I have recently spoken to many American businessmen who are anxious to do business with India but prevented from doing so due to various currency restrictions.

"One condition of the agreement would be that these restrictions be removed from the United States should be at least partially removed.

Also, as part of the agreement, the United States should set aside 6,000,000 dollars (2,000 crore rupees) credit, one third of which should be set aside for the use of India and other blocked-balance countries."

Idle Investment Funds And

Bullish Sentiment On New York

Stock Exchange

NEW YORK, June 20.

Wall Street opened with an undi-rectly active. Steels and metals continued to rise, while industrials and chemicals were mixed. The market was propped up by favourable earnings and dividends while the demand for mining shares was partly based on the belief that they were behind the market and had not fully discounted postwar prospects. Ralls continued to advance in the afternoon, rising more than two points with steels and low-priced motors following although straight industrials were mixed. To make the grade, idle investment funds aided bullish sentiment and the market closed firm.
